

ORPHANS WILL MEET THE BABY INDIANS

Wild West Show Has Some of the Cutest "Kiddies" Imaginable With It.

THERE WILL BE 500 IN THE TIMES PARTY

Ranch 101, With Its Ponies, Buff-faloes, and Other Wonders, Will Be Free to the Unfortunates.

And still The Times party grows! Each day scores of children are added to the list of those who will see the Wild West Show next Monday afternoon as the guests of the paper. Already the invitation has been accepted for 500 little ones. The matron of one home for motherless and fatherless children, who had declined for that institution the invitation of The Times called over the telephone today to ask if it were too late to have her boys and girls placed on the list.

"I thought it was just the usual circus that The Times had invited the children to attend," she said, "and I was not so anxious to take the children to that. But since reading the daily show stories in The Times I have learned that the Wild West show is something every child ought to see, and that its Indians, ranchmen, buffaloes, and bronchos, represent types of American life that are quickly passing away. I want my children to go to that show."

There is room for all. And she was assured that there would be room and to spare for every orphan who wished to join The Times party.

"The children at our home," said another superintendent today, "always clamor to hear The Times show story and are interested in every word that is printed telling about the wonders of Ranch 101. And, please, they want a story about the Indian children in the show."

Why, of course, they shall have it. And it goes without saying that every child who will attend the show next Monday afternoon, and the grown-ups, too, for that matter, will be interested to know something of the Indian children who belong to the Wild West Show.

At the show, the children of The Times party will have an opportunity to see several dozen young redskins, representing many different Indian nations, languages, and customs.

Some Little Indians. There is Little Teddy Bear, a full-blooded Sioux Indian child five years old, whose mother and father died when he was a papoose strapped to a board like all other Indian babies. Joseph C. Miller, one of the three brothers who own the 101 Ranch is the guardian of Little Teddy Bear, and the child is learning English under the tuition of Joe and Sam Lone Bear.

At the show, the children of The Times party will have an opportunity to see several dozen young redskins, representing many different Indian nations, languages, and customs.

Then, too, there are Leola Lookout, Neversome Sharpe, Little Teddy Bear, Minnie Lone Fox, Laura Green Grass, and others who will be there to welcome and looking out on the world with solemn, unthinking eyes, will be there for the children to see.

Indian children who are old enough to walk are comical figures, clad in little smocks that reach to their knees. Many wear an amulet or charm to keep off disease and ghosts.

The boys are armed with headless arrows, and practice shooting continually, while the girls make dolls out of buckskin and play "house," as do their little white sisters.

WOMEN ARE SAVED FROM APACHE BAND

Prospector Beats Off Infuri-
ated Indians With Empty Revolver.

GLOBE, Ariz., May 12.—Drunken Apaches attacked the ranch of Daniel Maben, four miles east of Globe, in quest of Maben, who had killed an Apache several months ago. Maben is now in the territorial insane asylum and only his wife and sixteen-year-old daughter were at the ranch.

Eugene Barrows, a prospector, rescued Mrs. Maben and her daughter after a thrilling encounter. He fired a shot into the air with the hope of frightening the Indians, but they closed in upon him.
Barrows then discovered that he had wasted the only cartridge in his revolver.

Using his weapon as a club, Barrows fought his way through the Indians, who numbered a half dozen. The last one attacked him with a knife and Barrows broke the revolver on his head. The blood-smeared clothing of the Apache was found this morning and it is believed that he was killed.

Barrows and the women succeeded in reaching the sixty-six mile mile, and came into Globe this morning.
A sheriff's posse is on the trail of the Apaches.

SHIPWRECKED PARTY THANKED FOR GIFTS

John T. Devine, proprietor of the Shoreham, has received a letter from Father Philippe Jose Madriga, pastor of the Church of Villa das Lagens, Fale de Flores, expressing thanks for the gifts received from the shipwrecked passengers of the Cunarder Slavonia, who were rescued and cared for by the people of Flores when the steamer was lost June 10, 1909.

When a collection was taken up, he was made treasurer. The people were offered when the purse was offered them in return for their hospitality. Later the money was placed in the hands of a priest at Flores, and a silver chalice was purchased. This was sent along with $15.00. The priest, Mr. Devine expresses the thanks of the people of Flores for the gifts.

CHARTER OF 1662 WELL PRESERVED

Connecticut State Librarian Taking Precautions With Historic Document.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 12.—State Librarian George S. Godard has removed the charter of 1662, granted by Charles II, and the constitution of 1818 from the large steel case in the library to the vault in the basement of the capitol.

They will remain in this vault until they are taken over to the State library building, and placed again in the steel case that was specially made for them. It is the intention of the State Librarian to have the case removed to the State library building this week.

The case is very heavy, and, with its nickel plates, makes a fine piece of workmanship. Mr. Godard, in order that visitors to the capitol may not be deprived of an opportunity of obtaining an idea of the appearance of the charter, has had the photograph of the document which was prepared for the Jamestown Exposition of a few years ago, placed in the library where it may be seen.

The utmost care is taken by the Librarian to protect the charter and the constitution from everything that might in any way impair them. Both are written on parchment. The charter is protected from the light by a silk curtain, and in front of the constitution is hung the flag of the State.

German Woman Cured Herself of Stomach Disease

Here is her sincere story—all who have "stomach misery" should profit by it, she writes:

"German people generally I believe have some species or symptoms of stomach trouble, and I wish it was in my power to let such sufferers know of the virtues contained in MI-O-NA stomach tablets.
Several years ago I was stricken with stomach trouble. In 1906 I had terrific pains in my stomach. My stomach was tender to touch and seemed to be inflamed, and there was a sourness or water brash that bothered constantly.

I can give MI-O-NA the very strongest kind of a recommendation, in fact it cured me."—Mrs. Emil Rothbacher, 861 Fourth St., Monroe, Mich.

MI-O-NA, the remedy that cured Mrs.
Rothbacher, is a scientific prescription for indigestion and all stomach ailments, and has made and is still making thousands of lasting cures throughout America.

There is no stomach disease (even castarrh of the stomach) that it is not guaranteed to cure, and the makers have so much faith in MI-O-NA for stomach disorders of all kinds that they will refund your money if it does not cure.

MI-O-NA, the faultless prescription, stops sour stomach, belching of gas, distress after eating, heartburn, biliousness and nervousness very promptly.
Try MI-O-NA for a week; misery will change to happiness; despair to hope, dull eyes to bright, and you will yourself wonder why you suffered so long with such a remarkable prescription at hand.

And only 50 cents for a large box at leading druggists everywhere, and at Henry Evans. Mail orders filled, charges repaid, by Booth's MI-O-NA, Buffalo, N. Y.
